HARRY L. BACKUS, [illegible] — ROSS K. KNAPP, Editor and Manager — TERMS:—$2.00 Per Year

VOL. LVI — SMETHPORT, PA., THURSDAY, OCT. 23 1919 — NO. 43

MARRIED IN SMETHPORT YESTERDAY

Married, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Shattuck yesterday noon, Miss Ella L. Ellwood a well known and highly esteemed young lady who lived in Smethport for a number of years and Orlo Kunkel of Carthage, Ill., the ceremony being performed by the Rev. Arthur Gregson of the Methodist Episcopal church.

She wore a suit of taupe peach-loth trimmed in Hudson seal and carried a boquet of yellow rose buds.

The bride left Smethport a few years ago to enter the nurses training class in the General Marine hospital at St. Catherine's Canada, from which she graduated as a professional nurse. When the war broke out she entered the U. S. Army service and was stationed at the Proving Grounds at Aberdeen, Md. Mr. Kunkle was a soldier stationed there and the marriage yesterday was the result of an army courtship.

The bride is well beloved by many friends here, and the groom is a very popular young man among his acquaintances.

Mr. and Mrs. Kunkle left on the afternoon Pennsylvania train for Albany, N. Y., from which city they proceed to Canada and visit various interesting localities. At the conclusion of their honeymoon journey they will make their home in Carthage, Ill., where Mr. Kunkle is established in business. They have the best wishes of this community for a long and happy married life.

BOY SCOUT MEETING

On Wednesday, Oct. 15, the boy scouts met in their rooms which they recently rented from R. C. Gleason. The meeting was called together by our loyal scout master and the following scouts were elected. Scout scribe, Hilding Bengs; treasurer, Redfield Gillette; librarian, Robert Redfield; Senior patrol leader, Howard Strong; scout editor, John McDermott. A room committee was elected and, it is hoped that the rooms will be in first class shape in a few weeks. After the business session was over, Tom Ryan gave a talk on his experiences while in the navy and it was appreciated by all. It is hoped that there will be someone to give a talk at each meeting. It would be appreciated if someone would volunteer to give a talk.

ENJOYABLE RECEPTION

The reception, which included a chicken supper and dance given by the ladies of Burbanks in honor of returned service men at Galeo Park last Thursday evening was one of the most enjoyable affairs ever held at the park. The weather was not at all favorable for a large attendance, but nevertheless nearly two hundred persons enjoyed the delicious and bountiful supper, fifty-five of whom were service men. Aside from most deliciously cooked chicken there were many other items on the menu heartily enjoyed by the partakers, not the least being the finale of pumpkin pie and cheese.

The Smethport Allied Band was on hand and soon after supper was concluded the dance started and everybody enjoyed themselves until 1 o'clock, when the guests reluctantly turned homeward.

The service men were more than pleased and a number of them have asked the MINER to be sure and thank the ladies of Burbanks on their behalf.

Mrs. A. G. Abbey, Mrs. L. A. Boyer, Miss Ethel Reeves and Frank Reeves was the committee in charge of affairs and deserve great credit for the thorough manner in which they attended to their duties.

TO THE PEOPLE OF MCKEAN COUNTY

Having been appointed Chairman of the McKean County branch of the Roosevelt Memorial Association, I have assumed the duties thereof and invoke the earnest support of all admirers of Theodore Roosevelt throughout the County:

This Association has been organized for the purpose of raising, by popular subscription, ten million dollars to be devoted to the construction of a memorial to the honor of Theodore Roosevelt of such beauty in art and such practical utility, as to enlist the highest ideals among the American people, and to foster incentives to the noblest action, among men everywhere.

It is not my purpose, nor is it the intention of the friends of Ex-President Roosevelt, anywhere throughout the country, to urge people to contribute to this memorial, but rather to afford practical opportunity to make a voluntary offering in this behalf.

It is not for me to enlarge upon the qualities of greatness manifested in the life of Theodore Roosevelt. That he was the greatest personality of our age there are none to dispute. That at every crucial hour, in the affairs of his country, he builded, even better than he knew, and that he knew better how to build, than any other builder of his time, are demonstrated facts of history.

Of him it has been well and truthfully said: "He cut his own trail, clear and straight, and millions followed him towards the light. He was frail; he made himself a tower of strength. He was timid; he made himself a lion of courage. He was a dreamer; he became one of the greatest doers of all time. Men put their trust in him; won a sound a champion in him; kings stood in awe of him, but children made him their playmate. He touched the eyes of blind men with a flame and gave them a vision. He was clean with a cleanliness that cleansed the air like a gale. He was loyal to his Country; and he acted loyalty. His courtesy knew no wealth or class; his friendship, no creed or color or race. Wherever he went he carried his own pack, and in the uttermost parts of the earth he kept his conscience for his guide. Nature made him great, he made himself triumphant." Such is of the heritage bequeathed to the world by Theodore Roosevelt. In honor of such a name the choicest memorial can not rise in vain.

The brief time since receiving my appointment renders an elaborate organization, such as is contemplated by the Association, impossible. It will therefore be necessary to depend upon the Public Press, the churches, the common and high schools, the 4 minute men and the public at large to make such a creditable showing as shall maintain the high standing of our County for generous giving. The period of the drive is October 20th to October 27th, 1919,—the later date being the anniversary of the birth of Col. Roosevelt.

Of the manner of conducting the campaign, the securing of subscriptions (subscription cards are promised,) and the custody of monies collected, will be announced at the earliest date possible.

W. W. BROWN,
Chairman.

DOUGHBOYS ARE DEFIED

The latest declaration of war to reach this office is that delivered by the Sailors of this town against the Soldiers. This action is the result of various disputes as to the supremecy of the Gobs or the Doughboys at basketball and the aforesaid sailors hereby challenge the soldiers to a game of basketball to be played any time within the near future for any amount of kale, and at any place, the losers to agree to keep quiet about their prowess in the future. Furthermore the Gobs hereby submit the names of their players: McDermott, Broughton, Hungerford, Holder, and Hull. The Gobs admit that they have one mere player—sort of a dark horse—that they are keeping under cover. The next move in this matter is up to the Doughbys and they are invited to state their case freely in next week's MINER, with the hope that this basketball battle can be soon arranged.

KANE HOTEL MEN LOSE LICENSES

Argument court convened Monday with the injunction against the Kane liquor dealers as the principle issue.

In the matter of license Harry F. Smalley owner of the Griffin hotel in Kane, a rule to show cause why the license theretofore granted to the above named licensee should not be revoked for the reason that said licensee has since the first of July, 1919, continually sold intoxicating liquors to various persons in violation of the federal law known as the war time prohibition measure having entered and served upon said licensee, which said rule was made returnable on this date and which said rule required said licensee to file an answer to this charge on or before Monday, October 13; said respondent not having denied said charges but having in writing signified his willingness to have his license revoked without hearing or objection on his part, it is now ordered that his license to sell intoxicating liquors be and the same is hereby revoked. It is further ordered that the costs of proceedings be paid by the respondent.

The other hotel keepers of Kane, as follows: William Kriz, Walter W. Wilson of Hotel Lamont; Thomas F. Lawler, Ronald S. Bly, New Fleming house; John F. Burns, Kane House; P. W. Durkin, Revelle hotel; Richard J. Grezille, Hotel Windsor. John Sneiderwine, of the hotel Alpha did not file a supply nor did he appear in person today. His case was therefore held over until Thursday morning at which time all witnesses are ordered to appear.

The injunction of the Mars Gasoline Company against Borough of Lewis Run was also heard. The Mars Gasoline Company had objected to a tax levy of $150,000 on its property and had refused to pay the same. The borough advertised the property for sale but the Mars Company obtained an injunction holding up the sale. The decision retured today reads that the Borough of Lewis Run be and is enjoined from selling the property levied upon and advertised for sale for the taxes levied upon the property of said plaintiff or any part thereof. Balance of the injunction dissolved. Costs to be paid by the plaintiff.

The case of F. W. Aldrich, cashier, vs. O. B. Lay submitted to court on briefs.

W. A. Young vs. J. C. Young continued by agreement until the January term of Argument court.

L. S. Letson vs. Borden's Farm Products Company, Inc., a corporation. Case argued and the rule discharged.

The cases of J. E. Pantall, et al, vs. The Galeton-Eldred Water Company, a corporation, were continued until the next term of Argument court.

In the matter of the audit, adjustment and settlement of the accounts of the tax collector and all other officers of the Borough of Kane for the year 1917. Case continued.

Mrs. H. Bebout, now Mrs. H. Bebout Goode vs. A. J. Drake. Continued.

In the case of G. C. Williams vs. Esther F. Wilson, a stipulation was made for the payment of $50 and costs and also $20 a week to respondent.

One criminal case that of the Commonwealth as. Earl Johnson charged with rape, was heard. A verdict of guilty was returned and Johnson was ordered taken to the Huntington reformatory.

CHRISTMAS SEAL CAMPAIGN

Harrisburg, Pa., October 20—Pennsylvania headquarters for the Red Cross Christmas Seal Campaign of 1919 have been opened in Harrisburg. The sale in this state is directed by the Pennsylvania Society for the Prevention of Tuberculosis and the whole campaign of organization and publicity in the state for the familiar little Red Cross seals will be directed from this city.

This year's campaign is on a broader and more intensive basis than ever before as greater work is planned for next year against tuberculosis and a strong educational propaganda is to be carried on to better the public health.

LOCAL & GENERAL

—Miss Lois Green has returned from a hunting trip in the Adirondack mountains.

—Born to Mr. and Mrs. Francis Quirk of Bank street yesterday morning, a girl, weight 8 pounds.

—Archdeacon R. T. Radcliffe of Ridgway conducted services at St. Luke's Episcopal church last church last Sunday which were much appreciated by large congregations.

—Earnest, the infant son of Mr and Mrs. Earnest Peterson, of Olean is reported seriously ill. Mrs. Fred Nourse, mother of Mrs. Peterson, was called to Olean this week.

Mrs. W. C. Carr of Buffalo was a guest of Mrs. E. T. Daly for the week end. On Monday she returned to her home accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Winifred Glenn-Smith, who has been Mrs. Daly's guest for several weeks.

"Jimmie" Hyde of Friendship, N. Y., was in town during the past week visiting relatives and greeting many friends of his boyhood days. His wife accompanied him on this visit. Mr. Hyde made the MINER office a pleasant call Monday.

—The mail service or rather lack of mail service between Smethport and Bradford has long since passed the joke stage and it about time that concerted action was taken by the people of this town to see if different arrangements looking to the betterment of the service can be made.

—As will be seen by an advertisement elsewhere in this issue Elisha K. Kane offers for sale his four fine farms near Kushequa as he wishes to devote all his time to manufactures. These are well stocked farms and offered at terms that make them very attractive prospects. Mr. Kane also states that he has 25,000 acres of land to lease for pasturage.

—The grouse season opened Monday and hunters were out in full force. Some good bags are reported, but hunters found no trespass signs staring them in the face on many familiar hunting grounds. The destructive element among sportsmen as well as pilferers is responsible for many of these signs. Farmers report that they cannot longer stand or damages to fences and other property as well as the loss of stolen fruit and looted gardens.

POLITICAL ADVERTISING
A Deserving Candidate For Sheriff.

The Smethport Democrat of October 16 contains the following mention of the candidacy of Alfred Oviatt, the popular candidate for Sheriff.

The candidacy of Alfred L. Oviatt for Sheriff is attracting favorable comment from all sides, regardless of party lines, and everything points to the election of this splendid, capable, young man at the November election, as he should be. Mr. Oviatt has received the following letter from the Major under whom he served in the strenous campaign he went through with the 28th Division on the battlefields of France which attests the high esteem in which he was held by his superior officers.

Grove City, Pa.,
October 6, 1919.

Mr. Alfred L. Oviatt.

My Dear Alfred:—

I see that you have been nominated for Sheriff in your County and you have my sincere congratulations and good wishes. There should be no question about your election as in a case of a deserving soldier winning the nomination the party he is on should cut no figure as certainly they have more right to these county offices than some who have been living off the county for years. I wish you success as you certainly deserve it.

Very truly your friend,
Fred McCoy,
Formerly Major 112th Inf.

QUIETLY MARRIED

Miss Edna Ferman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Ferman of Farmers Valley and Archie Mencer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mencer of this place were quietly married at the Baptist parsonage in Port Allegany Saturday, Oct. 18th, the Rev. D. L. Lloyd performing the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Mencer left late Saturday night on their wedding trip which will include Baltimore, Md., and Washington, D. C.

On their return they will make their home in East Smethport, where the groom is employed at the Pennsylvania depot.

This popular young couple have the best wishes of the MINER for a long and happy married life.

SMETHPORT YOUNG MAN NEAR DEATH

Swimming to the rescue of two men believed to be drowning, Leo McCarty, aged 22, and Herman Aiello, 24, both of Johnsonburg, were drowned Friday afternoon in the Clarion river near the dam at Johnsonburg. The two men whom they went to rescue were Robert Henretty and George Carey, who both succeeded in saving themselves.

Carey and Henretty were in a boat above the dam repairing a pipe line. They had no oars but were using a stick as a paddle. The boat unnoticed by the men, drifted close to the dam, and the precarious position was not discovered until it was too late to keep the boat from going over. The men then tried to ride the dam, but the boat capsized and they went into the water.

McCarty and Aiello, together with Tom Aiello, jumped into the stream and swam to the assistance of the men. They were caught in a whirlpool and undertow of the water and were unable to save themselves, and while the two boys drowned, Paul Kelsch jumped into the water with several others. Kelsch succeeding in rescuing Tom Aiello.

Three doctors worked over the men for hours, but only Tom Aiello could be resusticated.

There was a great deal of excitement at the scene of the accident more than a dozen people being reported to have gone into the water in efforts to save the drowning men.

McCarty was a son of John J. McCarty, well known Pennsylvania freight conducter on the Ridgway-Kane local, and a nephew of Michael McCarty of this city.—Kane Republican.

Robert Henretty mentioned in the foregoing article is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Henretty of Smethport.

IMPORTANT TO MOTORISTS

Hon. H. H. Redfield has brought to the attention of the MINER a clause from the law governing vehicles in this state that if generally memorized would reduce the number of accidents greatly. Following is the clause:

"When two vehicles approach the intersection of two public highways at the same time, the vehicle approaching from the right shall have the right of way." This applies to horse drawn as well as motor vehicles.

THE CLARION STATE NORMAL IN A FLOURISHING CONDITION.

The fall term of Clarion State Normal School has opened with a large enrollment only equalled by six other fall terms in thirty-three years of the school's history.

Extensive improvements have been made in the school plant, the curriculum has been broadened, and many advance steps have been taken in the general educational features of the institution.

There has been a great revival in athletics, and the school is now represented by one of the best foot ball teams in this part of the state. The outlook for the basket ball and base ball seasons is very bright.

SERVICE MEN TO BE ENTERTAINED

The Protected Home Circle is making plans to entertain the service men of Smethport and vicinity on Tuesday, November 11. While plans are yet in making it is understood that a supper and dance will be b.g features of the occasion.

"THE WANDERER"
Big Theatrical Attraction in Bradford

The engrossing old biblical story of the Prodigal Son, which undoubtedly affords the best dramatic plot of any where a young man is the central figure, will be told at the BRADFORD THEATRE THURSDAY AND FRIDAY WITH FRIDAY MATINEE.

"The Wanderer" for surpassed the most sanguine expectation. It is inadequate to refer to this tremendous offering as a dramatic version of that most beloved parable of the Great Teacher." "The Wanderer" is a bewildering, intoxicating, ravishing, spectacle. Messrs. Comstock and Gest have produced it with even greater prodigacy than the Prodigal Son himself displays in the magnificent second act when he scatters his gold broadcast upon wine, women and gambling.

Not alone in scenic and costumic investiture has a generous and loving hand robed "The Wanderer" for public approval, but in the selection of the cast certainly no thought of expense was permitted to interfere with the obtainment of the one great artist most suited to each particular role.

It is more than an entertainment; it is an education to watch the dignity and repose in the acting of Robert Frazer, Florence Auer, Richard Thornton, Olga Newton, Henry Dugan, Louise Orth, Mabel Montgomery, and the other principals while drinking in the sonorousness and sweetness of their well cultivated speaking voices. This is histrionic art in its highest form of development.

Seats now selling.

EMPORIUM WON GAME

The Smethport high school football team dropped a game to the Emporium Hi last Saturday that seemed anybody's game up to almost the last minute of play. Smethport was not so much outplayed as "out-lucked" and as a consequence the final score was 18 to 14. The Smethport line possessed the spirit but, lacked the brawn to stave off the onslaught of its heavier adversary, but in the open plays was fully Emporium's equal.

A spectacular run by Bob McCarty who secured the ball on a forward pass by Emporium and ran almost the length of the field for a touchdown was easily the feature of the game. There are several Smethport players who should take lessons in tackling from Hulsey Allison, who seldom missed his man—usually downing him in his tracks. The crowd made up in enthusiasm what it lacked in size and a few Emporium rooters also made their presence known in our midst. Smethport's remaining scheduled games are as follows:

Oct. 23—Eldred at Eldred.
Oct. 29—Emporium at Emporium.
Nov. 1—Portville at Portville.
Nov. 4—Eldred at Smethport.
Nov. 8—Bradford at Smethport.
Nov. 15—Coudersport at Smethport
Nov. 22—Portville at Smethport.

A DESERVING CANDIDATE

J. F. Hewitt of Keating township, Republican candidate for supervisor, is a man well fitted for the duties of that position and who has had much practical experience along road making lines. While politics do not generally enter to any great extent into township elections it would seem Mr. Hewitt's due that he get not only his party vote but many ballots besides.

UNCLE TED'S

BED TIME STORIES

"Is it true, Uncle Ted," asked Jack as he and his sister Ruth were anxiously waiting for their Uncle to tell them another story, "that when the United States entered the war with Germany our country got so mixed up with Europe that we can never just attend to our own business again?"

"Well, Jack," answered his Uncle, "of course we got mixed up with Europe," as you call it, when we entered the war but there is no reason why we can't go on about our business as before unless we join the world club."

"But the world club isn't formed yet and we haven't agreed to the peace treaty," was Jack's quick reply, "and I was asked in school today who is running things for the allies now and until the treaty is settled."

"That is an interesting question Jack, and one that brings up a real story. I will tell you as much about it as I can before bed time. In Paris there is a body of men called the Supreme Council. This council is made up of men from each of the countries that fought Germany. But the funny part about it, at least so far as the United States is concerned, is that it has never been said officially in Washington who represents the United States."

"Somebody said at school," interrupted Jack, "that a General in the army was our. What did you call it Uncle Ted?"

"Representative," answered Uncle Ted. "Yes it is that dear old General Bliss, who was a member of the peace party in Paris for the United States, is our representative on the Council and I suppose he was the one who let this council send our Marines and Sailors to fight the port, D'Annunzio, whom I told you all about not long ago."

"Where is this Council?" asked Ruth.

"The Council meets in Paris, France but you children must be quiet now and not ask so many questions or I won't be able to tell you the story before bedtime. This council was supposed to look after the boundaries and any troubles of the many countries that fought until the peace treaty was settled. In fact it was supposed to look after everything that happened as a result of the war, starting with the day when Germany was beaten, November 11, 1918. But instead of that, the council has been a joke and has let so many dangerous things happen right under the control of the Supreme Council. Before the war with Germany, the country of Poland, created by the peace conference and the little country of Lithuania which is trying hard to get off to itself, were included in the great country of Russia all under the control of the Czar. The Czar is gone now, supposed to be dead and Russia is in the hands of the dread monster Bolshevism. Well of course, when all these people wanted to get their own countries started it meant that there would be trouble in deciding where one country would end and another begin, because they are all so close together. That is part of the business of the Supreme Council, but they don't seem to be able to handle it. The council has marked the boundary line between Poland and Lithuania three times and every one of these times Poland has broken the order and it is expected that she will break the order of the Council the fourth time. Lithuania was started as a separate country under the idea made by President Wilson of self determination, that is, that little countries which ought been included in other big countries, like Lithuania in Russia, could start housekeeping for themselves. But poor Lithuania is being devoured piece by piece by her neighbors while the Supreme Council seems to look on and do nothing."

"Who is running Poland?" asked Jack.

"Do you remember when we went to hear a great musician with long hair who played the piano. Well, his name was Paderewski and he is a Pole. When he saw that his people might be able to start their own country he left the United States. He is now Prime Minister of Poland and seems to be running it. He told the Council that they would not dare to oppose what Poland wanted to do. I guess he told the truth for she is raising all kinds of trouble and the council doesn't even scold her. News from that part of Europe has told us that Poland has also broken the orders of the council and gone into what is known as White Russia, Ukrainia and Czecko Slovakia. Here is another matter. There is a city in the northern part of what was the German Empire before the war called Danzig. It is a port and borders on the Baltic Sea. Under the peace treaty or at least under the Supreme Council the treaty is settled, that city is to be a free city. Germany will have nothing to do with it any more. But she wants it badly. Now since Fiume was taken by the poet for Italy, although the treaty says Fiume goes to Jugo Slavia, Germany may try to take Danzig and say it is just the same as Italy taking Fiume. Right now there are many German troops under the command of a German by the name of Von der Goltz occupying the land around the Baltic Sea. This is in violation of the terms given Germany when she was beaten. And besides this I have been told that there are 105,000 German troops in Lithuania and territory near there. Why hasn't the Supreme Council make them get out or break up this army? Not long ago, and I guess this is still true, there were 23 wars going on in various part of Europe and yet the Supreme Council with war authority has sat hopeless. What could a world club do in peace times if this council can do no better now, when peace is really not a settled matter? That is the story of the Supreme Council, children, and it teaches us that the world club would only be just such another joke."

WINDOW GLASS MEN'S MEETING

The meeting of the hand window glass manufacturers held in Pittsburg on Wednesday and Thursday of last week was well attended. Thirty-seven factories with the total capacity of 1,166 pots were represented. T. W. Camp president of the National Window Glass Manufacturers, presided. The principle topics discussed were those of quality, packing, the demand for window glass, working conditions and the election of a wage committee. Mr. Camp stated that while great improvement had been made in the quality and packing of hand-made window glass, yet they were not satisfied and were going to continue improving it until glass manufactured by hand method would be the best on the market. He stated that the new packages adopted by these manufacturers recently were giving splendid satisfaction.

The outlook is that when the factories close down on December 8, the date on which the present wage scale expires, that there will be no general resumption of operation until early in January. It was the general opinion of those present that the fire during the coming year will be somewhat extended but at this writing no one is able to say how many weeks the factories will operate, as there has been no wage conference held. After a lengthy discussion it was decided that the factories will operate under the two-period system, as they did in the present blast. An effort is being made to equalize the number of pots operating the first and second period. There will be about 3,000 hand pots in shape to operate and owing to this large number and the shortage of skilled help it will necessitate the four-shift system of operation. In order that each factory may have a working force. National Glass Budget.

PORT ALLEGANY

After years of patient suffering, Charles J. Rogers of Main Street was called to the Great Beyond on Sunday morning at 9:15. Mr. Rogers has been blind for about eight years and completely helpless and confined to bed for the past year. His death was due to a complication of diseases and had been expected for some time. Mr. Rogers was well known in this section, having come to America in 1882 and living in this vicinity the entire time since. He was born in London, England sixty nine years ago and was married in the same city to Miss Amelia Nichols fifty two years ago. Three sons were born to them: Charles, Jr., who died at the age of two years and eight months; at the age of one year and the youngest, Charles Wm., aged 11 years and eight months. After the death of this son, they came to America. Mr. Rogers was a sober, industrious citizen, having been naturalized many years ago. Mr. Rogers possessed rare skill as an artist and did much decorating for the Royal family in England, the last before embarking for this country being work on furniture for Napoleon the 1st. He leaves to mourn his loss besides his widow, one brother, Frederick of Buffalo, one niece, Sarah and two nephews Thomas and Edward (or "Ted" as he is familiarly called and who made his home with his uncle for many years) and Wm. Rogers of Olean. Also Joseph Rogers, who was apprenticed to him at the age of five years. Besides other relatives in England. The brother and one son, Edward came from Buffalo and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Rogers from Olean for the funeral services which were held at the home on Main Street Tuesday P. M. at 2 o'clock, Rev. French of the Presbyterian Church officiating. Mr. Rogers was the inventor of the formula for the Roof Paint which has been manufactured and widely sold from Port Allegany, beginning its production at his farm below town. Mrs. Rogers deserves much credit for the wonderful care which she has so tenderly given him. Rarely does one see such patience and devotion, having taken the entire care of him until the last two months and a half when Mrs. Jessie Nixon came forward and has rendered unmeasured service to the afflicted family winning our hearts by her interpretation of the Master's "Inasmuch."

The Interment was made in the Port Allegany Cemetery with undertaker G. L. Gallup in charge.

The death of Mrs. Annie E. Both took place Friday morning at 11:45 a. m. at the home of Charles and Lettie Manning on Lillibridge Creek after a three years illness, during the last year of which she was confined to her bed. The funeral services were held Monday afternoon at two o'clock at the Manning residence, Rev. French of the Presbyterian church officiating and interment was made in the Port Allegany Cemetery. Mrs. Both was 69 years of age at the time of death and had resided here all her life, being the eldest daughter of one of the pioneer Manning family. She is survived by one son, Wallace, her husband, Byron Both, having died about seven years ago. She leaves three brothers, Don Manning of Roulette, William and Charles of this place and two sisters, Mrs. S S. Fry of Smethport and Lettie Manning of this place. Mrs. Both was a very estimable lady, a member of the Presbyterian church, and loved and esteemed by a large circle of friends.

Clarence Ellison had his head badly cut Friday afternoon when he fell from a tree at his home on Vine street. He was taken to the hospital where it was found that his scalp was severely cut, and several stitches were found necessary to close the wound.

Mrs. Walter Doll returned Monday morning from Austin, where she had been ill in the hospital.

Mrs. Carl Wolford, who underwent an operation at the McGranor Hospital Saturday, is gaining nicely. —Reporter-Argus.

Joseph F. Robinson of Bradford, present county detective and former captain of the Pennsylvania state constabulary, is also a veteran of the Spanish war. His experiences seem to be peculiarly fitting to make him an ideal sheriff as he is also a thorough business man and with newspaper experience that gave him a wide knowledge of county affairs. He is the Republican candidate for sheriff of McKean county and one whom every voter of that party should support as in the event of his election he will make an excellent official.

Wonder if Abraham Lincoln belonged to the Railsplitter's Union?

A. J. Bond of Bradford, a Republican candidate for county commissioner, is one of the most conservative as well as successful business men that McKean county has produced in several decades. His services in the county commissioners' office would be a valuable asset that the voters of the county cannot afford to ignore. He is not after the place for the money there is in it, but having had considerable to do with developing and building up the county he naturally feels that his experience and knowledge of affairs would be a benefit to the inhabitants of the county. All voters who give a thought to the real value of their ballots for the good of the county will be found to be numbered among Mr. Bond's supporters.

Burleson's latest move is to ask every postmaster in the United States to furnish a list of R. F. D. residents within their jurisdiction, which will make some mailing list for the Democratic campaign purposes. Burleson has nerve enough to use the government franking privilege for almost any purpose, so perhaps the Democratic national campaign committee will not have to worry about the price of enough two-cent stamps to cover this gigantic mailing list.

O. S. Gahagan of Mt. Jewett, present county commissioner and candidate for re-election on the Republican ticket, must have satisfied the residents of the county in general as he would not otherwise have won the nomination against the strong field of contestants. His re-election should follow by an emphatic plurality as he certainly deserves another term in the office he has filled so well.

The Corry special fiend, notorious throughout this part of the state for many years, evidently moved to Kane. At any rate some pirate upon the journalistic seas is grabbing every item within a fifty-mile radius as "near this city" and shooting them in to the city dailies under a Kane date line.

Maybe a "contemptible quitter" is a fellow who sends the Army and Navy to Vera Cruz to get a salute, doesn't get it, and comes away without it, leaving his countrymen to the mercy of murderous Mexico.—National Republican.

INDUSTRIAL WARFARE

The conflict between nation and nation has not ceased. It has only been transferred to another field. Victory will come to the people who combine willingness to work with an increased production of marketable goods. Every day brings this news from the field of battle.

About half of the workers of England are out on strikes. Production has been cut as never before. In the United States we have about two thousand strikes. Production is decreased, the price of the goods manufactured is so high that they cannot find an export market. In Germany about one hundred per cent of the workers are at work. Production is increased Their goods are cheap enough to find a ready market for the export trade. The new war has just begun. May we hope that American industry will do its part as loyally as did the military forces of the Republic.—Dubuque Times-Journal.

The responsibility for future massacres in Armenia, rest not on the United States, but on Great Britain and the Council of Paris. British troops have been protecting Armenia up to the present, and they are being withdrawn solely for reasons of imperial politics. The Council of Paris has the authority and the power to authorize a joint international expedition to Armenia, if the British decline to do the entire job themselves. The attempt to lay the full responsibility for the fate of Armenia at the door of the United States is — known that it cannot fail to be indignantly rejected by the people of the United States. Let America do the dirty work," is not, and has never been, a motto acceptable to American principles.—Exchange.

While the remainder of the United States has been at least officially dry since July 1, New York city has paid little attention to the prohibition laws it is understood and a great many places have continued to run wide open, the only difference being that they raised the price on all wet goods. Under the enforcement law of wartime prohibition which becomes fully effective next Tuesday unless vetoed by the President, drastic powers are granted to federal authorities. A famous revenue officer, who has waged successful war against the mountain moonshiners of the south, will be placed at the head of 600 men who will endeavor to bring New York city back into the dry United States.

W. E. D. Stokes, multi-millionaire 73 years old is striving to get a divorce from his present wife who is 33 years old. Stokes has been through the divorce mill on other occasions and that "WED" in front of his name is not altogether symbolic as part of the time, according to law, he is unwed. The old millionaire's own son, stepson of the present wife, is named as one of the co-respondents. Mrs. Stokes will fight the action which she claims is a plot to defraud her two children, of whom Stokes is the father, of their share of the Stokes millions.

Senator Lawrence Y. Sherman of Illinois says that about ten days ago a lieutenant from his Congressional District, who had been home on a furlough, was notified by the War Department to report to his superior officer for service in Poland. Even before the league of nations is a fact our troops are being called upon to perform police duty in all parts of the Old World. Republicans call attention to the recent landing of the marines on the Dalmatian coast, the presence of several thousand of our soldiers in eastern Siberia, the freezing and shooting of our men in the bitter cold of the Murmansk region of northern Russia, the landing of marines and soldiers in Schlezwig-Holstein to supervise a plebiscite soon to be held there, and the rumor that some of our forces have been engaged with the Poles against the Lithuanians. This latter rumor appears to be confirmed by the statement of Senator Sherman. Opponents of the league of nations point to these incidents as forerunners of what may be accepted as a permanent condition if once the league is adopted by the United States. If that shall take place they claim that our Army will be dispersed throughout Europe and Asia, and our Navy scattered upon the seven seas, in an attempt to carry out our obligations under the covenant, dictated by a council composed of eight foreigners to one American.

MT. JEWETT

In order to discover what caused a rattling sound in a box of talcum powder, secured from one of his comrads on a boat while enroute home from overseas, David Bloomquist, found therein an envelope containing six silver rings.

These had evidently been secured by some soldier to bring home, as relics, and while a chance that he may have been killed was picked up by some comrade and passed from one soldier to another until it was received by David. He said he heard the rattling but paid no attention to it, thinking some of the powder had become wet and formed lumps which caused the rattling. And just for curiosity one evening this week he decided to open it and discovered treasure as above stated. The rings found were of French, Belgium and German type.

A large crowd of members and friends of the M. E. Congregation gathered together at the parsonage on Tuesday evening, and gave a very pleasant reception to the new minister, Rev. D. O. May and family. The house was filled to the capacity and then some, by all reports the largest crowd ever gathered at the parsonage. During the evening recitations were given by Master Melvin Bowen and Miss Mary Millard, which were very pleasing.—A light lunch was served by the ladies of the church. After a very enjoyable evening they departed for their homes, having made a very pleasant welcome and reception to the new minister and family.

J. M. Blair of Blairs Mills, Pa., president of the Mount Jewett National Bank, died at his home last Saturday, October 11th, from a complication of diseases. His age was 69 years and 2 days at his death. He had been president of this Bank for the past three years, and was a man well liked by all who came in contact with him. His body was laid at rest at Blairs Mills Wednesday. Charles E. Stimmel, cashier of the Mount Jewett National Bank, was in attendance at the funeral.

The Bell Telephone girls gave a very pleasant party at the home of Miss Ruth Lundgren in honor of Miss Bessie Rohenack, who has resigned her position as one of the operators at the telephone office. A supper was served and a real good time was reported. She was presented with a lovely gift as a remembrance.

Mrs. Grant Kester returned Monday from a two weeks visit at Buffalo While at Buffalo she caught a fairly good glimpse of the King and Queen of Belgium in the parade.

Mrs. O. S. Gahagan entertained the M. E. Ladies Aid Wednesday afternoon. A light lunch was served and a very pleasant afternoon spent.

Mrs. C. Sundstrom entertained the Swedish Mission Ladies Aid at her home Monday afternoon.

Mrs. A. R. Burgstrom entertained the Monday afternoon club this week. Lunch was served and a fine time reported.—Herald.

The attendants were Miss Mildred Crooks of Bradford and Lawry V. Shippey of Rixford. Following the ceremony the newlyweds left for a wedding trip which will include points in the eastern and southern states. The bride is a charming young lady and the groom is a well known oil producer with many relatives and friends in Smethport.

—Edward Holland, a baggagemaster on the Pennsylvania railroad, who resides in Kane, has been arrested charged with robbing the safe in the Pennsylvania station at Kane October 19. $135 was the amount taken from the safe by the robber. The theft was discovered by Mrs. Doubles, wife of Fred Doubles the station agent. The safe had been opened by someone familiar with the combination and within a few days suspicion pointed so strongly to Holland as the guilty party that his arrest followed. Railroad detectives say that he has confessed his guilt. Holland has borne a good reputation during the several years he has resided in Kane.

RED CROSS SAVED AMERICAN PRISONERS FROM STARVATION

RELEASED AMERICAN PRISONERS AT BASLE.

The fine physical condition of this group of sturdy American troops is due to the fact that the Red Cross was able to take care of them during their imprisonment in German prison camps. The picture was taken on their arrival in Switzerland.

AMERICANS RETURNING FROM GERMAN PRISON CAMPS.
A Group of United States Prisoners Held in German Camps, Marching Into Vichy.

Thrilling Story Now Made Public in Report of Commissioner Carl P. Dennett.

EFFECT ON GERMAN MORALE

Astounded When Prisoners Received More and Better Food Than Their Captors.

One of the most surprising features of the great war was the remarkably fine physical condition of the American prisoners who were released, some of them after long periods of captivity in German prison camps, and sent into Switzerland after the signing of the armistice.

That the American prisoners were fed, clothed, well fed and well clothed is due to the work of the American Red Cross, which provided them with food, clothing and many other physical necessities and comforts. Carl P. Dennett, of Boston, in a report just issued says:

Starvation Averted.

"The American prisoners would have starved to death if it had not been for the food parcels sent to them through our (Red Cross) organization at Berne. The condition of the Italian, Russian and other prisoners who did not receive food supplies from their country of origin proves that the prison ration was not sufficient to sustain life for a prolonged period, and it was of a character that our men absolutely would not eat. Our returning prisoners have testified unanimously to the fact that they would have starved and it not been for the food we sent them. I have obtained testimony in one instance of 2,000 American prisoners to this effect.

"The American expeditionary forces scrupulously respected the rules on the treatment of prisoners, as there is not a single record of an attempt by a German prisoner to escape.

What the Red Cross Did.

"In the early months after America's entry into the war, American prisoners were subjected to many of the indignities bestowed upon other prisoners, but after the demands of the United States in September, 1918, this sort of treatment ceased. There was always that fear in the Teuton mind that certain distinguished plenipotentiaries, Junkers and industrialists held in American internment camps might have their wholesome meals and healthful surroundings altered a bit.

"The American government found itself in the curious position of having to feed and clothe German prisoners of war in its hands and also the American prisoners of war in the hands of the Germans. To meet this condition, the government made arrangements by which the American Red Cross undertook to do the following:

"1. Classify the names of American prisoners of war.

"2. Obtain camp addresses of the prisoners.

"3. Transmit this information to the headquarters of the American forces in the Red Cross at Washington, which notified the kin of each prisoner and the American Red Cross in charge of the American affairs in connection with the search for missing men.

"4. Ship necessary relief supplies to American prisoners.

Effect on German Morale.

"The American prisoners were thus kept well clothed and well fed, and morale were maintained apparently none the worse for their confinement. Mr. Dennett emphasizes the psychological effect upon the German population:

"It is undoubtedly true that the food and clothing parcels sent to the American prisoners constituted the best possible propaganda. The German population had been educated to believe that an American army of any size could not possibly be sent to France, and that it would be physically impossible to transport the necessary food, clothing and supplies. And yet, here were prisoners, scattered all over Germany, receiving from America twenty pounds per week of better food than the German population had seen for years, and better clothing.

"The effect was irresistible, and spread over all Germany. It became a source of embarrassment to the German officials, and we were even told we were sending more supplies than were necessary and asked to reduce the quantity. We were informed officially that the prisoners received so much food that they were using their canned vegetables to play 'prisoner's ball' with. Of course, using a can of corn to toss around a circle instead of a ball didn't hurt the contents any; but it made a profound impression on the Germans to see good food used in such a apparently reckless manner.

Secured Better Treatment.

"Because the American prisoners were sent both clothing and toilet articles to enable them to maintain their health and self-respect, they were envied by the Germans. On the contrary, Italian and Russian prisoners who received no supplies were starved and in rags as a consequence and were treated like dogs.

"Bands and orchestras were organized among the American prisoners, and entertainments given. Mr. Dennett tells of band music sent from America, including such selections as 'Just Like Washington Crossed the Delaware, Pershing Will Cross the Rhine,' 'It's a Long Way to Berlin—But We'll Get There,' etc.

"Rather than deprive the American prisoner bands of these pieces, the titles were clipped off and the music forwarded. Thus the German guards and prison officials were enabled by Yankee wit to whistle, sing or hum 'Long Way to Berlin' and 'Pershing Will Cross the Rhine,' the words for which were not known to them."

RED CROSS TO FIGHT "FLU"

State Commissioner of Health Calls on It to Prepare For Possible Recurrence.

ITS SERVICES LAST YEAR

By Reason of Splendid Work the Red Cross is Asked to Be Ready This Fall in Case Aid is Needed.

The Commissioner of Health of Pennsylvania has called upon the Red Cross as represented here by the Pennsylvania-Delaware Division, to make suitable preparations to meet a possible recurrence of the influenza epidemic this fall.

While it is believed that a repetition of the disastrous epidemic of last year is improbable, last year's experience has shown that the epidemic develops with such rapidity that in order to provide for prompt and efficient action, plans should now be formulated to deal with the possible emergency.

Work For Chapters.

To this end the commissioner recommends that each Red Cross chapter should make a careful survey of material resources, of buildings, both actually and potentially available, and of nurses and nurses' aides, classified in accordance with their availability for either local service or as a part of a mobile force.

The commissioner suggests that for the occasional case or in an epidemic of slight proportions, arrangements with hospitals would meet the requirements in many localities.

Last Year's Services.

All the Red Cross chapters in the state last year did so much in combatting the ravages of the disease and bringing relief to its sufferers that their familiarity with the conditions will enable chapter officials to take whatever precautionary measures sound judgment will suggest as being advisable at this time, in order to promptly meet a similar condition this year should it arise.

As to the prevention and treatment of the influenza, the commissioner advises as follows:

Measures of Prevention.

"As for precautionary steps applying to the individual, there seems nothing better than the maintenance of the general health at its highest point, the avoidance of crowded, overheated, ill-ventilated places, and the shunning of him or her who coughs without using the handkerchief as one would a sufferer from smallpox.

"There is enough evidence of the value of masks properly constructed, properly worn, and supplemented by clean hands to make this measure advisable, particularly in the case of those who do cough. This as a protection for others.

"The underlying cause of influenza has not been discovered, unless it be a filterable virus, nor is there any therapeutics for it other than shelter, good nursing, proper nourishment, and symptomatic treatment."

The state officials feel that the work of the Red Cross in the late epidemic alone has more than fully justified the existence of the body and its future continuance. The perfect organization will be of great value in preventing another visitation this fall.

WAR WORK OF AMERICAN WOMEN

NEARLY $100,000,000 WORTH

This Was Only One of Many Activities in Which Their Loyalty to Their Country Was Shown.

The war achievement of the women of the United States through the American Red Cross has just been made public, and it shows clearly what they did to win the great conflict.

The report shows but one of the numerous activities by which they backed up the country's fighting men, but the tremendous part they played is shown in the fact that in two years they produced nearly $100,000,000 worth of surgical articles and garments, a truly staggering total.

Three Million Worked.

It is estimated that 3,000,000 women and girls participated in this tremendous work, and it is among them largely that the Red Cross is now recruiting the million workers who will assist in the enrollment of members for 1920 during the ten days ending Armistice day, when universal membership will be sought to maintain the effectiveness of the organization built up in the war for the big peace program of the Red Cross.

The approximate number of articles, and their estimated value, produced by the women of the various Red Cross Divisions of the east, is as follows:

New England (Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island), 20,084,706 articles, valued at $7,430,000.

Atlantic (New York, New Jersey, Connecticut), 77,859,904 articles, valued at $45,597,425.

Our Own Contribution.

Pennsylvania-Delaware (Pennsylvania and Delaware), 25,277,821 articles, valued at $7,670,279.

Potomac (District of Columbia, Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia), 7,361,036 articles, valued at $2,404,319.

The other nine divisions, covering the remainder of the United States, did proportionately good work. Every division made a splendid record, its contribution being regulated only by its population and material resources.

Other Activities.

Chapter production was not the only activity of these loyal women, for they were tireless in Red Cross canteen and hospital work, in the two War Fund campaigns and Christmas Roll Calls, the remarkable increase in Red Cross membership from 328,000 before the war to its present strength of nearly 20,000,000, exclusive of Juniors, being attributed in very large part to their assistance.

What this chapter production meant to the needy people to whom the results of its labor was sent can scarcely be overestimated. It was not confined to any one people or group of people, but was distributed wherever needed over the entire war zone as well as among the military camps in this country. The work was an earnest, not only of the spirit of the American women, but of the American people as well.

RED CROSS TO FURNISH RELIEF

Preparations For Disaster Aid on a Gigantic Scale Now Being Made.

NATION'S WEALTH AVAILABLE

New Plan is Part of the Peace Program and No Disaster is Too Big For it to Handle Efficiently.

Preparedness for disaster relief on a scale never before possible is being undertaken by the American Red Cross, as one of the important features of its peace program, for the support of which an effort will be made to secure a record membership during the Third Red Cross roll call, November 2 to 11.

A Frightful Record.

Because of the lack of the spectacular in many of them, it is not generally realized how frequently disasters occur, bringing death and suffering in their wake. Since 1900, disasters of peace have cost thousands of lives and have brought personal injury and property losses to no fewer than 1,500,000 persons, at the same time destroying property valued at over $1,000,000,000.

During 1917 alone, eighty disasters came to the attention of the American Red Cross; sixty-two tornadoes, five floods, four great fires, two earthquakes, two serious mine explosions, two munition plant explosions, a race riot, a shipwreck and the tragic calamity which befell Halifax. The total of deaths entailed was 1758, while 5627 were injured and the property loss reached $[illegible],000,000.

Under its direction the entire resources of all Communities for emergency relief will be mobilized for instant use when needed. Red Cross chapters everywhere will create Disaster Preparedness Committees that will make surveys locating not only emergency food supplies, drugs and other essential supplies, cots, mattresses, blankets, clothing, schools, armories and other buildings for housing refugees, but also will canvass physicians, nurses, social workers and others prepared to respond instantly to calls for their services in disasters.

Relief Supply Centers.

Information gathered in these surveys will be used by the thirteen Red Cross Divisional organizations in the United States, which will establish disaster relief supply centers and take charge of operations when assistance is needed. In the case of major disasters, where the resources of the division in which it occurs are overtaxed, the entire relief strength of the Red Cross in the country may be mobilized, through National Headquarters. And there will also be ready for immediate relief duty the equipment and personnel of the fifty base hospitals organized by the American Red Cross and turned over to the army for service in France.

For the guidance of its representatives at the scene of disasters a comprehensive Relief Manual has been compiled by J. Byron Deacon, director general of the American Red Cross Department of Civilian Relief, who is charged with responsibility for Red Cross funds and operations in disasters. The Manual calls attention to the frequency of disasters and urges that relief to be effective must be swift and centralized.

The local community, so far as possible is depended upon to provide its own relief with the Division and National Red Cross organizations standing ready to rush additional aid where it is necessary. The extensive and varied experience of the Red Cross places it in a peculiarly effective position to offer sound counsel. It has built up a trained and seasoned staff of relief workers and each Division office will have its list of experienced disaster workers under agreement to go, at a moment's notice, to any stricken territory.

The Red Cross is thus planning to put disaster relief on such a sound basis that it will become in the fullest sense, nation-wide in scope, and will assure a swifter mobilization and application of whatever may be needed after calamities, no matter what their size or where they occur.

RED CROSS PHOTOGRAPHS GRAVES OF OUR HEROES

Of the 170 American aviators who lost their lives in battle, the graves of 143 have been photographed by the American Red Cross for their families. Every effort is being made to locate and photograph the seven that have not yet been found.

In many cases graves were located only after hundreds of miles of German soil had been covered. As soon as they were found and properly marked in accordance with army regulations they were photographed.

The same system has been followed in France, where the Red Cross photographed thousands of graves of American soldiers for their families. These photographs are in a special holder, supplied by the Red Cross, and give all markings as well as the exact location of the graves.

The Beaver's Memory.

For generations beavers flourished in the rivers of France till killed off for their furs, and they are now known only on the Rhone, near Avignon, where for three centuries there have been no trees to cut down. The animals consequently burrowed in the banks, but when transferred to Poland at once resumed the tree-cutting habits dropped by their ancestors 300 years before.

Cultivate Confidence.

The man or woman who ventures much, may fail often, but he will achieve in proportion to those very failures because he will use each one as a stepping stone to higher effort. But the man or woman who quibbles, reconsiders, hesitates and weighs every gain against a greater loss, is a predestined failure, because his very attitude of mind covers that condition which he should avoid.—Exchange.

AROUND THE WORLD WITH THE AMERICAN RED CROSS.

Repatriating Prisoners.

When hostilities ceased there were in the hands of their Teuton captors millions of prisoners of war of all Allied countries, the terrible plight of whom is well known to all the world. Red Cross workers, carrying relief supplies of clothing, medicines and supplementary foodstuffs, penetrated the Central Powers as soon after the armistice as the military authorities would permit, and the work of getting the prisoners started back to their own countries was soon begun. In this photograph a group of these men are seen packed up and restored to something like normal health, awaiting the train that will carry them out of bondage.

BIG RED CROSS PEACE PROGRAM

How Plans of Organization Bring It to Every Person and Home in Country.

AS IMPORTANT AS IN WAR

Nation-Wide Activity For Improving Public Health and Expansion of its Nursing Resources Two Objects.

The peace program of the American Red Cross has just been made public and it is gigantic in its scope. It is so comprehensive that it will bring the activities of the organization into practically every home and into the life of every person in the country.

The Program.

Foremost will be nation-wide activity for the promotion of public health and hand-in-hand with this crusade will go a vigorous campaign for the extension of the country's nursing resources; the broadening of the Red Cross Home Service, which in the war proved so helpful through the assistance it was able to give the families of soldiers and sailors, to be of general usefulness where other social agencies are lacking; greatly increased Junior Red Cross activities; extension of Red Cross facilities for emergency disaster relief; completion of relief measures for the victims of the war in this country and overseas, and preparation to fulfill whatever duties may be laid upon it as the volunteer relief society officially authorized to assist the army and navy.

The plan of the Red Cross public health campaign calls for co-operation with other existing health promotion and disease prevention organizations throughout the United States, acting by itself where no health agency now exists, in an effort to reduce the high mortality due to preventable disease and to improve general health conditions.

The Public Health.

Public health nursing will be one of the important features of this campaign. Red Cross public health nurses will be assigned to as many small communities as possible, thus extending to the rural population the bedside nursing, school inspection, classes in hygiene and home nursing and search for tuberculosis and other preventable disease that has been so effective in the cities and larger towns.

In this connection it is planned to offer to every woman in America instruction in home sanitation, hygiene, care of the sick and dietetics, thus providing first-hand knowledge of how to keep the family well and what to do where illness or accident cannot be avoided. These courses are now being introduced in the public schools and colleges and are offered department store employes, factory operatives, girl scouts, nursemaids and others, fitting them to help combat infant and child mortality, malnutrition, unsanitary living conditions, preventable disease and epidemics in their own homes.

The seven thousand public health nurses in the United States are far too few to meet the ever-increasing demands for their services.

Home Service.

Home service among the families of American soldiers and sailors has brought out the important fact that in 90 per cent of the places where Home Service is now operating there is no other social work agency. Accordingly there is an imperative demand, national in scope, that this service with its thousands of highly trained workers, be continued and expanded to assist all needy families in communities where other neighborly relief is not at hand.

As always, the Red Cross must hold itself ready for instant relief service in time of public disaster, such as great fires, floods, cyclones, shipwrecks, earthquakes, pestilence, famine and epidemics. Experience in the war and the great organization built up through that emergency will with quickly available funds make this branch of Red Cross activity more effective than ever before.

The Junior Work.

The Junior Red Cross, with its millions of members in the schools, public and private, throughout the United States, has laid plans calling for $500,000 for relief work abroad, this amount constituting 60 per cent of the money the Juniors raise, the remainder to be used for local relief in co-operation with Home Service. It is also planned to have the junior members supplement and assist in the work of the national organization wherever possible, with especial regard to the needs of children.

The turning over to the American Red Cross of the surplus medical and surgical supplies and supplementary food stores of the American army abroad for distribution among the still suffering native populations, together with the foreign relief programs still being carried out largely in Poland, the Balkans and Siberia, necessitates the continuance of Red Cross operations overseas.

SHOWED SPIRIT OF AMERICA

Connecticut Youth Good Example of the Men That Made Victory Over the Hun Certain.

What was the spirit, French, British, Italian, American, that made possible the day of the signing of peace? Well, as for the American spirit, a story, which Gen. Clarence Edwards told me at St. Mihiel, has the meaning as I felt it, writes Lucian Swift Kirtland in Leslie's. He was visiting the hospital. Just as he was leaving a nurse ran after him. "A Connecticut boy," she said, "has heard you are here. He has begged me to ask you to see him. He's dying, but he doesn't know it. He says he has a great favor to ask." Just then the chaplain came and had the same request. They hurried back, the chaplain leading. The boy looked up and saw the chaplain.

"My God! Chaplain," he called out, "what are you looking so darn glum about? Just 'cause you think I'm going to die and you don't know how to tell me about it? H—, what did I come over here for? Didn't I come over here to die if that had to be the chance? Haven't I had my big chance? Have I failed? What the h— are you worrying about?"

Just then he saw the general. "Oh, General," he said, "excuse me for bothering you, but I'm dying. I know it. I don't want to ask for favors, but the Connecticut band is here, and I thought I'd ask you if you'd have them come and play just once outside here. I want to hear the 'Connecticut State March' just once more."

In a minute the band was there—and it was playing the strains of the march. The lad lifted himself up, a smile of satisfaction on his face. His arm beat the time of the music. He pretended to be leading the band. At the last note he dropped back to his pillow—dead.

OLD HOUSE TO BE MUSEUM

Movement for Preservation of Structure Identified With Early Days of Southern California.

A movement is on at Riverside, Cal., for the preservation of a number of the old landmarks of the vicinity, buildings and spots intimately connected with the early-day period of southern California. The plan is being fostered by the local chapter of the Daughters of the Revolution and the Pioneer society.

The first project to be undertaken is the restoration of the old Rubidoux home, an adobe structure, which was built by Indian labor three-quarters of a century ago. The Rubidoux family was one of the most prominent of the early Spanish residents, and the home was a social center for the interior section. Many of the notable events of history of the period just previous to the forty-niners are more or less intimately connected with this old building which in recent years has been abandoned and has begun to crumble away.

After the work of restoration is completed, the building will serve as a museum for a pioneer museum for the housing of many relics of the early days.

Mediterranean Air Base.

A far-reaching program of aviation in the French colonial possessions in Africa has been drawn up by the commission on aerial transports at Tunis, Algeria, which recommends that a great aerial transport center be established, with Tunis as its base, in order to centralize aerial traffic over the Mediterranean sea. Inasmuch as Tunis occupies an advantageous position, at the junction of French and international colonial possessions, a regular aerial service, it is urged, between Tunis and outlying districts would benefit the French protectorate. Already a line of airplanes is in operation between Gabes, an Algerian seaport, and the frontier of Tripoli; and this, in the expectation of colonial officials, will be extended to Tunis. So the "unchanging East" is fast becoming a by-word only of times past.

Flax In the War.

With restoration of the industry on a peace-time basis cotton once again goes ahead of linen in the world's favor. The exigencies of the recent conflict raised flax to the position as leader among fabrics, a rank which it had held for centuries but lost almost simultaneously with the advent of the cotton gin.

With realization of the importance of cotton in the making of munitions, there came a speedy reversion to linen for the more commonplace usages—waistcoats, sails for ships, even "wings" for airplanes having lately consisted of linen. But flax has reached the end of its days of monopoly, King Cotton now rises to the fore in ordinary pursuits, and linen once again becomes the aristocrat in this field of supply.

Modern Radio Methods.

In these days of the radio compass and instant wireless communication, a ship at sea is in little danger of losing its way, says Popular Mechanics magazine. Recently the Louisville Bridge lost its bearings in a heavy fog off the coast of New Jersey, and was unable to find Ambrose channel into New York harbor. The operator called the navy yard, and within five minutes received the answer: "Your true bearing at 4:43 p. m. from Rockaway beach two-hundred-ten. Sandy Hook sixty-seven. Manoloking fifteen." The auto tourist asking the best route to town could hope for no more definite information than that.

RED CROSS GIVES FULL ACCOUNTING

War Council Tells How Millions Contributed by Public Were Used For Relief.

BIG TASK IS DESCRIBED

In Twenty Months $154,000,000 Was Spent Overseas and $119,000,000 In the United States.

Washington, (Special.)—Through a complete report of the work of the American Red Cross in the war by Chairman Henry P. Davison, on behalf of the war council, the organization on the eve of its annual enrollment of members during the Third Red Cross Roll Call, November 2 to 11, has rendered an accounting of the many millions given it by the American people to help our fighting men and our allies. The statement is, in part, as follows:

"The war council of the American Red Cross is now prepared to make a complete accounting to the American people of money contributed and expended, as well as the work done by the American Red Cross during the period in which the war council was in control of its affairs. The war council was appointed May 10, 1919, and went out of existence February 28, 1919.

"It was the practice of the war council to give complete publicity to its policies and finances, but it is only now that a picture of the war period as a whole can be presented. It is the feeling of the war council that a report in this summarized form should be made directly to the public which provided the money and gave the effort which made the American Red Cross a success.

"A statement of the American Red Cross effort and finances since the war council relinquished its control will be made to the public through the executive committee, and it is important, therefore, that the fact that this report covers the period only until March 1, should be carefully noted."

Following are certain round figures covering American Red Cross participation in the war, as revealed by the war council's report:

Some Outstanding Figures.

Contributions received (material and money):	$400,000,000
Red Cross members:
Adults, 20,000,000;
Children, 11,000,000	31,000,000

Refreshments served by canteen workers in U.S.	10,000,000
Nurses enrolled for service with army, navy or Red Cross	23,922
Kinds of comfort articles distributed to soldiers and sailors in U. S.	2,700
Knitted articles given to soldiers and sailors in U. S.	10,000,000
Tons of relief supplies shipped overseas	101,000
Foreign countries in which Red Cross operated	25
Patient-days in Red Cross hospital in France	1,155,000
French hospitals given material aid	3,780
Splints supplied for American soldiers	294,000
Gallons of nitrous oxide and oxygen furnished French hospitals	4,340,000
Men served by Red Cross canteens in France	15,378,000
Refugees aided in France	1,720,000
American convalescent soldiers attending Red Cross movies in France	3,150,000
Soldiers carried by Red Cross ambulances in Italy	148,000
Children cared for by Red Cross in Italy	155,000

Of the $400,000,000 in money and supplies contributed to the American Red Cross during the twenty months the war council was in existence, $263,000,000 was allotted to national headquarters, while $137,000,000 went to the chapters to finance their activities. Expenditures in the twenty months totalled $273,000,000, divided as follows: By national headquarters in France, $57,000,000; elsewhere overseas, $04,000,000; in the United States, $48,000,000; by chapters in the United States, $43,000,000; cost of chapter-produced articles distributed in France, $23,000,000, elsewhere overseas, $8,000,000; in the United States, $28,000,000, making total expenditures in France, $82,000,000; elsewhere overseas, $72,000,000; in the United States, $119,000,000.

Now Good For Many More Miles

With the Miller Ad-On-a-Tires Your Old Tires Are Made Almost As Good As New

When you put Miller Ad-On-A-Tires on your worn tires you are virtually rebuilding them. It makes them oversize as well as more puncture-proof.

For Miller Ad-On-A-Tires are more than simply a tread. They are really a tire itself without the beads. They are built of tough, buoyant rubber with several layers of fabric, a breaker strip, and side wall which completely covers the tire and clinches under the rim. Each has the famous Miller Geared-to-the-Road or rib tread.

They are put on by a special method. This makes the Miller Ad-On-A-Tire an integral part of the tire. It fits snugly and cannot creep.

Bring in your worn tires. Let us show you how the Miller Ad-On-a-Tire enables you to get 75 per cent more mileage. For a very small fraction of the original cost of your tires they can be made almost as good as new.

It makes no difference what size they are. Or what make. The Miller Ad-On-A-Tire fits them all. So bring your tires to us and let us show you how to get miles and miles of additional service.

ELDRED

The directors of the Chrisman Paraffine Paint Works, last Saturday, declared a semi annual dividend of seven per cent on all preferred stock of record October 11th, the dividend is accumulated balance due on stock of last year, and 3 per cent. on the present year. Those who bought their stock outright at five per cent. discount when it was first offered, have received equivalent to 15 per cent. on their investment for the first year, which isn't bad for the adverse conditions under which every non-essential war industry labored during the past two years. The company is regaining its market standing after its long lapse of inactivity, during the general failing health and death of the former owner, and there seems no reason apparent why those who invested in the stock of the company are not coming out in good shape and that all of the prospectus made at the time of incorporation will not eventually work out. Being able to pay the first years' 10 per cent. and a third of the second year's dividend during the first 18 months, however, is better than was really expected.

The Windfall Gas company laid a line of pipe up Mechanic street during the past week and will take on several additional customers. At the upper end of the street they were served notice by E. A. Barden, president of the Eldred Home Gas & Fuel company that a portion of the street belonged to the Barden lands, and forbid trespass thereon. Several families live on the upper end of the street and it was news to them that they had been paying road taxes on a private road. Whether the affair will end up in court or no is not determined. The Windfall company has expressed itself in orders to lay the line the full length of the street but are stopped on account of shortage of pipe. The outcome may be interesting. The Windfall company has staked out two new locations for wells and will develop their service as rapidly as possible and the lines will be extended to other parts of the Borough as fast as they can increase their supply to take care of additional patronage.

Mrs. Charles Sutter died at the Clinic hospital at Olean, at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon following an operation the day previous. This was the second operation she had undergone and she was thought to be in no grave danger. Deceased was a resident of Eldred until last spring when they moved to Olean where she could receive hospital treatment. Deceased was 39 years of age and leaves her husband, two children, Virgil and Edna, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Adsit and two brothers, Lewis and Fred, of Olean, to mourn her death. The funeral service will be held tomorrow at 9 a. m., from St. Mary's of the Angels church, Rev. W. E. O'Hern of Eldred, officiating.

Lloyd Burrows a veteran of the Civil War, died at his home on Mechanic street, at 7:30 o'clock, Wednesday morning, following a long illness of complicated diseases. He was 75 years of age, being born at Pine Creek, January 20, 1843. He served in Co. E., 199 Pa. Vol. Infantry during the Civil War, and leaves his wife and four children to mourn his death, Mrs. John Mangold of Port Allegany; Mrs. Milton Stiles of Eldred; Mrs. Volney Burrows of Roulette and Mrs. Fred Falk of Gleasontown, Pa. The funeral was held from the house at 2 o'clock this afternoon, Rev. Watkins officiating.

Announcement has been received here of the marriage of Miss Gladys Genevieve Cummings to Frank Sach.
